October 2014 EcoFacts

Make your next event Zero Waste!

Here's how it works:

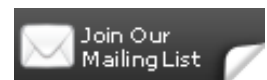

- Event planners set rules that require all vendors to sell only reusable, recyclable or compostable materials.
- Trash cans are replaced with Zero Waste Stations with recycling, compost and landfill containers.
- Highly visible signage at Zero Waste Stations is multi-lingual and uses pictures.
- The event's zero waste goals are explained to vendors, event participants, media and service providers before, during and after the event in a variety of ways (social media, print advertising and posters, announcements during the event, etc.).
- Volunteers are trained and posted at Zero Waste Stations to assist participants.

Visit www.ecocycle.org/zero-waste-events for more info about how to achieve this goal.
